

BASICS

AMERICANO

An Americano is a great option for those who aren't fans of making their coffee with milk and need something a little stronger to help give them that extra caffeine kick. About 10-16 ounces, it's made of only espresso and water, and it found its way into the hearts of coffee lovers everywhere. Now you can learn how to make one yourself!

RISTRETTO

Ristretto is a more flavorful and concentrated form of espresso. It has a higher concentration of coffee flavor than other drinks, making it a strong and sweet coffee drink. Ristretto also contains fewer chemical compounds overall than longer extractions, leading to a different balance of tastes and aromas.
